Bring Ray Morton from Sparks, Nev., to Answer Charge of Abandonment

Tells of Abduction by Union Men and Carried Across Country in Trailer

Deputy Sheriff Alfred Oetting of Kenosha county left yesterday for Sparks, Nev., to bring Ray Morton, 29, of Wilmot, Wis., back to Kenosha to answer to a charge of abandoning his wife and three children.

Missing since Oct. 7, Morton turned up Monday in Sparks, telling police there that he had been abducted for doing non-union laying. He said he had been held captive in a house trailer during a two-week cross country tour and finally released in Sparks after his abductors tried to decide whether to kill him. Police there said he was clean shaven and apparently in good health.

Morton, employed on a turkey farm at Trevor worked at laying tile during his spare time.

"Sure it's a slab job," he told Sparks police, "but we're in debt and we need the money."

"On the night of Oct. 7 I was going from Wilmot to estimate a job at Lake Villa across the state border," he continued. "I saw a car was following me and I turned off on a country road south of Lake Villa.

"But the other car was faster than mine, and these guys (he said there were two) forced me off the road. "Before I knew it there was a blackjack against the back of my head and I was out."

"They fed me only at night after it was dark and then all I had was hamburger. They drove on a lot of dirt roads, but the two windows in the trailer were covered and I haven't any idea where I have been."

Morton described one of his abductors as dark with a big black mustache and the other as a blond. The blond kept saying, "Let's kill the — — , he'll only cause us trouble," he said.

On Monday afternoon the abductors, according to Morton suddenly stopped the car and said: "This is where you get out." He said he immediately went to the police station.

Police chief M. O. Anderson said, "It's the wildest tale I've heard around here, but I put it in a pickup order on the trailer and the Buick and notified the F. B. I."

Morton told a newspaper man he had been followed a week before his abduction by the blond man who told him he was scabbing and that he was in the wrong country.

"I've learned my lesson now, I'll never lay another piece of this as long as I live," Morton was quoted as saying. He refused to be photographed saying he feared further trouble from union leaders.

Mrs. Albert J. Michaelis Of Indian Point Dies; Funeral Held Monday

Mrs. Albert J. Michaelis, 77, died Friday afternoon at her home on Indian Point following an illness of two weeks.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Strange funeral home with Rev. Robt. E. Harrison and the Order of Eastern Star officiating. Burial was in Grass Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Jenny (Jane) Michaelis was born Aug. 15, 1874 in Streator, Ill. and moved from Streator to Chicago where she lived 25 years, before moving to this community in 1924. The family maintained a cottage at Indian Point 43 years.

Mrs. Michaelis was a member of the Antioch chapter of Order of Eastern Star, the Lake Villa Royal Neighbors, and the Bible class at Indian Point.

She is survived by one son, Marvin, Chicago; a daughter, Miss Hazel Michaelis, Marcham, Ill.; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Crowl, Mrs. Mae Phillips, and Mrs. Edith Dust, all of Streator; three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The husband Al J. Michaelis, died April 8, 1940.

Something New at Ted's Ted's Sweet shop has taken on a new appearance with a U-shaped service counter and a modern candy display case.

Safeguard for Halloween

Village officials today warned against vandalism during the Halloween season. No leniency will be shown when persons are caught in the act of destroying property or creating hazards.

Police Chief Walter I. Scott said that extra police will be on duty nights next week and that firemen will patrol the areas where there are fire hydrants. The safety of the village was endangered one year when fire hydrants were opened and much water allowed to escape. Had there been a fire the firemen would have been helpless for lack of water pressure.

A.T.H.S. Homecoming With Ideal Weather to Attract Large Crowd

Parade and Pep Session To-Night, Game and Dance Friday Night

A parade, bonfire, pep session with speeches and cheers tonight will open the annual Homecoming of Antioch Township High school.

The parade at 7 p.m. will have a number of unique floats. One of the floats will bear the Homecoming queen Denise Chishrop and her court, comprising of Mitzi Wolf, Marlene Wertz, Donna Martin, and Shirley Mani.

The Homecoming game will be played at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow between Barrington and Antioch with a sophomore game at 6 p.m. providing the curtain raiser.

Seven hundred invitations were sent out by the alumni committee to graduates of the school in an attempt to get them together.

A dance following the game will be interspersed at 10:45 p.m. with the crowning of the queen.

Fair weather is expected to make possible a large attendance tomorrow evening.

Convert School Library Into Shop Area Until Building Is Completed

The Tonyan Construction Co. of McHenry, which is in charge of the building program at Antioch Township High school received word last week that the shipment of materials needed to complete the shops will arrive in mid-November.

Since the shops will not be ready for occupancy until the first of February, it has been necessary to convert the library into a shop area. The library was moved this week into the study hall, where a new arrangement of library-study hall facilities has been set up. This combination, which is used in many schools, should increase the use and effectiveness of the library services.

The desks from the study hall were moved by the shop students to Oakland School, where they will be stored until needed.

Cub Scout Organization Meeting Tuesday at Grass Lake School

There will be a meeting for parents of boys between 8 and 11 years of age in the Grass lake area under the arrangements made by leaders at the Grass Lake school Tuesday evening, Oct. 30 with the den mothers present.

A film on Cub Scouting will be shown by the Highland Park division of Cub Scouts.

Mrs. Gloria Lindstrom is the leader of Den No. 1, with Helen Griffin as her co-worker. Mrs. Clarence Schwab is leader of Den No. 2, assisted by Lydia Edwards. A third den is being formed by Mrs. Lee Coons and Mrs. Dorothy Muzjuc, of Pettie lake and boys wishing to join may call them.

Library Club Formed

The library club of the Antioch Township High school is comprised of 10 members under the sponsorship of Donald Chiappa, school librarian. They are Beverly Van Patten, Shirley Ross, Mary Lou Wilson, John Kramer, Sharon Behrens, Elsie Catardi, Janet Horenberger, Gilbert Vizensky, Janet Caddy, and Lorraine Faust. The object of the club is to get a better understanding and knowledge of the use of the library. There are no officers. The club plans a trip to Chicago for a day.

Something New at Ted's Ted's Sweet shop has taken on a new appearance with a U-shaped service counter and a modern candy display case.

Antioch Beats Ela 25-6; Readies for Barrington At Homecoming Friday

Sophs to Play Barrington For Conference Title in Pre-lim.

Antioch High school's football team broke into the victory column Saturday afternoon with an explosive 25 to 6 defeat of Ela-Vernon during a Homecoming at Lake Zurich. The triumph put the Sequoits in a good attitude for their Homecoming game Friday with Barrington here.

Last Saturday the offense clicked and the Sequoits rolled up their victory score over the Bears in the first half and then coasted during the second half.

Harry Larson, fullback, accounted for two touchdowns on line plays, one in the first quarter and another in the second quarter. The thriller was Lewis Place's runback of a punt 50 yards for a touchdown. His previous feat of this nature was nullified, but this time there were no penalties.

The fourth touchdown came when Bob Lubkeman, end, blocked a punt and Ronnie Arndt, the other end, picked up the ball and carried it 25 yards for a TD. Kennedy kicked the goal.

In the final quarter Ela-Vernon blocked a punt and taking a chance on a fourth down, passed to a touchdown. Massopust blocked the try for extra point, however.

The passing of Quarterback Weber was good, and although he was not privilege to score any point, Ronald Scully, played a good game.

Coach Paul Kessenich was pleased with the work of his team Saturday and while a few mistakes were made in the second half, the improvement of the offense was to his liking. The defense has been extra good this year.

Larson has been named captain for tomorrow's Homecoming game. While Barrington has been undefeated for 26 consecutive games this game may be an upset.

The sophomores humbled the Ela-Vernon sophomores 19 to 0 here Monday. Dick Cryer, Eddie Haling, and Fred Miller scored the touchdowns and Tom McGreal kicked the extra points.

The sophomores are now tied with Barrington for the conference championship and the winner will largely be decided when the Papposes play the Colts in a preliminary to the Homecoming varsity game. The game will start at 6 p.m. Friday.

The freshmen will play Grant freshmen at Fox Lake this afternoon.

Local Masons Observe Past Masters' Night With Banquet, Program

Pastmasters of Sequoits lodge No. 827, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons were honored at a banquet Tuesday evening in the Masonic temple.

Of the 43 former masters of the lodge since it received its charter in 1893, 15 were present. Twenty are deceased.

Special recognition was given to Ira M. Sims, only living charter member who received a gift.

Past masters present who received gifts were Elmer Brook, Arthur Rosenfeld, Robert Wilton, Elmer Hunter, Arthur Wertz, L. R. Van Patten Sr., Emil Lubkeman, Elmer W. Kufalk, Clarence King, John Gaa, Arthur Laursen, Walter Solomon, Elroy K. Anderson, George E. Good, and Adrian Vanderkloot.

The meeting was conducted by Worshipful Master Wendell S. Nelson, who introduced Charles Manson, Waukegan Attorney as the speaker.

Of the three 25-year members entitled to recognition present were George Good, Frank Hennig, and Elmer Hunter.

Guests were present from Waukegan, Wilmot, Bristol, and other neighboring lodges, and the attendance was approximately 100.

Hallowe'en Party

Good Time Promised For School Children At Halloween Festival

Parade and Theatre Party Planned for Next Wednesday

There will be ghosts and goblins, Indians, characters from Mother Goose, clowns and many other impersonations as school children parade next Wednesday evening in the annual Halloween party given by the Antioch News and the Antioch theatre.

Children from all grade schools in this community including those youngsters of kindergarten age may take part and compete for the many prizes that will be awarded.

The parade will form at the Antioch grade school at 6 p.m. and leave at 6:15 with the children grouped according to age and classes. The line will go directly to the Antioch theatre where judging of the costumes will be done by a committee composed of Mrs. Joe Horton, Mrs. Marion Rigby and Mrs. Irving Elms, who have served in previous years.

Three prizes will be given to boys and three to girls of each grade.

Fred Swanson, theatre manager, announced that a special picture "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," has been obtained for the occasion and a number of cartoon comedies will be shown.

There will be an intermission during which parents may take the younger children home.

Basketball Season Will Open Nov. 13 With Eighteen Tilt Schedule

Basketball is in the wings ready to step onto the stage of Antioch Township High school sports activities.

Scarcely 10 days after the final football game November 2 with Northbrook there, the Sequoits will turn to the indoor sport in a game here with Richmond High school on Tuesday, Nov. 13.

Two games with non-conference teams that week prepare the Sequoits for their four-month long schedule of a total of 18 games.

Coach Richard Scott has already enrolled the following boys as candidates for the varsity basketball team: Bob Lubkeman, Bud Dittmer, Ken Rentner, Paul Biel, Bob Wilson, Jerry Quilly, Fred Stahmer, Bob Weber, Bruce Stahmer, Bob Floyd, Romie Nickerson, Bill Garrahy, Bob Seekatz.

David Petty, Eugene Baethke, Neal Carney, Charles Bock, Dennis Kennedy, Dale Jones, Forrest Bolton, Fred Nielsen, Boake Baird, Tom Cahill, and Rudolph Selak.

Who Sets The Price?

When you buy one or more shares of corporation stock through a brokerage house, who sets the price you must pay?

The answer to that is very simple, but a great many people have not had the opportunity to learn it. The fact is that you and all the other buyers and sellers of the stock involved decide the price—and no other individual or institution has anything to do with it.

Actually, the price of a stock represents the most the buyer is willing to pay for it and the least an owner will sell it for. That means that the buying and selling of stocks follows the pattern of the buying and selling of real estate, farm products, and practically all other forms of property. A stock market is, in effect, an auction house, and like all auctions it is governed by the sound old law of supply and demand. When the demand for a stock is greater than the amount offered for sale, the price generally rises. When the amount offered for sale is greater than the demand, the price generally goes down. And that is the reason why stock prices may vary from day to day and year to year.

There has been a very significant increase in the general public's interest in stock ownership. No longer is it true that the big investor keeps the brokerage houses and the exchanges going. People of moderate means, with average sorts of jobs, now constitute the great majority of the nation's 15,000,000 or more owners of industrial stocks. These people are the real capitalists of today.

Toughest Problems

Retailers face some tough problems these days. And the current squeeze on their always modest profits is just about the worst.

LAKE VILLA

The Official Board of the Community Church held a board meeting on Wednesday evening with Mrs. Chas. Hamlin at her home, and Friday evening attended the fourth quarterly conference at Libertyville when the new Dist. Supt. of the Chicago Northern District presided.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will entertain members of societies of neighboring churches at an afternoon meeting at the church on Wednesday, Oct. 31. Dist. Pres. Mrs. Gaile Groves of Evanston will give an illustrated lecture on her travels in the Holy Land.

Lake Villa W. S. C. S. observed a week of self denial and prayer at a meeting at the church on Thursday from 11 a.m. to 3 P.M. with various members taking part.

Rev. and Mrs. Harrison have as guest at the parsonage the Senior Mrs. Harrison of Oklahoma for a few weeks.

Mrs. Jeanne Mack who spent a week in a Burlington hospital for surgery, returned to the hospital last week for further treatment and is now on the mend at her home here.

A number of the members of the local Royal Neighbor Camp attended the convention at Waukegan this week and the officers took part in the afternoon and remained for the evening program.

Andrew McGlashan of Elmhurst called on friends here last Saturday and Sunday.

Pfc. Roy Sweet who has been in training in a Virginian Army camp was home on furlough this week and will leave soon for California, then to Korea for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Lyle Pacey of Antioch is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brooks on Burnett Avenue, recovering from recent surgery.

Mrs. Dan Boyer, Mrs. Clifton Bray and Mrs. Virginia Smith were guests of Mrs. Ned Grimes of Chicago for luncheon last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Blust left Monday to visit friends and relatives

THE ANTIOCH NEWS, ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1951

When Congress renewed the price control law, it added some amendments which, it was believed, would allow retailers and all other businesses concerned to keep their pre-Korea profit margins, and to pass on the many increases in costs over which they have no control. But these amendments lacked clarity and language and, according to OPS, they apply only to manufacturers and processors, and to new retailing regulations but not to the old ones. Thus, OPS contends, retailers can be forced to absorb many price increases.

This puts the retailer in an impossible situation. His pre-Korea profit margin was the result of years of competition in a free market. It is, the most part, the smallest profit that will permit of good service and progressive store operation. It averages only a few cents out of each sales dollar the consumer spends and is sometimes less. If it were eliminated entirely, leaving the retailer no profit at all, the difference to the consumer would hardly be noticeable.

Worse of all, if OPS is determined to follow a policy of "profit control"—and there are plenty of indications in this direction—the whole economy of the country will be threatened. That certainly was never the intent of Congress. That policy comes straight out of the socialist ideology. It would disrupt industry and trade—and undermine the economic strength of the nation, perhaps irreparably.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Today I am giving the ladies, bless 'em, a chance to brag about what they have done since they got the ballot back yonder 30 or so years ago. They can tell us how sweet and pretty everything is now—or maybe they can alibi the whole thing and tell us how come saloons are even more plentiful. How come a 1000 dollar car now costs 2000 and not 1000 as it was when the old pelicans were running the shebang alone.

We now have power shortages in Government dominated regions—we can be locked in the cooler if caught with gold dinero on our person—we have rationing—we have confusing ceilings and floors shifted on us over night—we have an income tax man fingerling our paychecks—we have 24 cent loaf of bread—we have a 10 cent short beer—we have 5 buck firewater—we have just about everything 100 per cent, that we don't like.

Now gals, what I want to know is, what is the fly in the ointment, why is everything not sweet and lovely. Why is a good girdle hard to find—why do you have no more food in the ice box than 25 years ago—maybe less.

Come right out with it—did the guy you voted for have a tie that you liked, also did he have wavy hair—and also did it turn out that he was not too hefty in the bean—or what. You were going to clean up—be honest now—you will feel better—tell us.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

The local fire department enjoyed a social time at the recreation rooms of the fire station Saturday evening when they entertained those who assisted them in various ways at the summer carnival. Delicious roast beef and many other good things were served, dancing and cards were enjoyed and a very pleasant evening spent. Augie Tanner of Chicago came out for the occasion.

Mrs. Dick Grutzmacher, nee Jane Walker of Evanston, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walker while her husband was away on a hunting trip in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Helen Weber and mother, Mrs. Florence Kerr were in Evanston last Friday and Saturday and visited Mrs. Kerr's daughter, Mrs. George Mitchell and family.

SOCIETY EVENTS

International Churchman's To Be Held in Chicago

The International Churchman's Exposition is expected to swell attendance at the American Baptist Convention and the Convention of the Disciples of Christ which is scheduled for May 19-24 at the Chicago International Amphitheatre says Dr. Alfred Diman Executive Secretary of Chicago Baptist Association.

The American Baptists expects to register 16,000 or approximately twice the registration of this year's Buffalo meeting. This figure added to the registration of the Disciples of Christ and the attendance of other denominations may bring to the International Churchman's Exposition over 30,000 churchmen.

With the expected removal of restrictions on church building early in 1952 these thousands of Churchmen from over the nation will be able to gather new ideas at the Exposition to aid them in the planning, construction, maintenance and the more effective use of their church properties.

Male Fireflies Carry the Torch For Lesser Sex

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The firefly season is in full swing, and welcome to millions of Americans is the gentle, lamp-toting beetle which brightens warm summer nights.

East of the Rockies along a wide, populous band centered on the 40th parallel, each year brings a race to see which arrives first—the first day of June or the earliest "lightning bugs."

Millions have marveled at the firefly and its strange, cold light. Few, however, know that those on the wing are males signaling to flightless females among the blades of grass. Flashes by the grounded sex answer the airborne glimmers at intervals precise to the split second, Frederick G. Vosburgh writes in the National Geographic Magazine.

1,500 Species

Like lovers everywhere, Vosburgh observes, fireflies are vulnerable to jest. Shine a small flashlight from aloft in imitation of the male beetle's signal and you may get an answer from a female in her bower. Or, from the grass, flash an answer to an aerial spark at the proper ladylike interval, and down comes the male to your mating beacon—and perhaps a few of his rivals too.

Science knows more than 1,500 species of the firefly-family Lampyridae—each with its own system of signals. The common firefly of the eastern United States flashes at intervals of about six seconds, usually on a short, rising flight. Codes of some other kinds suggest series of dots and dashes.

England knows the glowworm, as the female and larva are called, but its flying males are virtually fireless. The same is true of northern Europe and our own far West. There are fireless species east of the Rockies as well as those that flash. "Fire beetles" that sustain their light for minutes at a time serve as lamps and party jewels in the American Tropics. The Japanese collect fireflies to brighten night festivities.

Sparkling in Unison

Rhythmic flashing of firefly legions has been reported by observers in southeast Asia for two centuries. What invisible cheerleader they follow remains their own secret, Vosburgh comments. Scientists give this explanation as to why our own fireflies sometimes flash in unison over a half-acre area:

A male gets a response from a female, and other males near by wink back, taking their cue from her or from the male who found her first. Their lights together are enough to stimulate another female several yards away. Males near her then answer with one accord, a third female responds, and the chain reaction is on.

Firefly light, scientists calculate, has a usual strength of one 400th candlepower. Cold light of this kind can be produced in the laboratory by oxidation of certain chemical substances, but only at a cost that bars it from practical use.

Microfilm Brings Expense Of Bulky Publications Down

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—A new way in which bulky or rare, but highly-important publications are becoming available at low cost to the world's libraries is being demonstrated at the University of Illinois.

The system, microprinting, is somewhat like the well-known microfilm system in that a reading machine is used to project the pages back to original size for use. But unlike microfilm, which is a photographic process, microprint is a printers' ink process. When 50 or more copies are desired, this makes it cheaper than microfilm. With it, 200 greatly-reduced pages can be printed on the two sides of a 6x9-inch card.

Prof. Edgar L. Erickson of the University's history department is displaying results of 10 years of work toward editing and microprinting the 6,000 volumes of the British House of Commons "Session Papers" for the 19th century. He is editor of this project, sponsored by the American Historical Association and the Readex Microprint corporation.

Information in the "Session Papers" is highly important for historical and other studies. Yet complete sets of the volumes exist only in two places, the British Parliament's own library, and the British Museum.

Kilbride Hat Is 'Gimmick' In True Hollywood Style

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Percy Kilbride, "Pa Kettle" to picture fans, has a true "gimmick," as Hollywooders call such, in the brown derby that has become his trademark.

Kilbride has been wearing the hat on the stage and in motion pictures for 21 years. He takes special care of the topper, has turned down offers from many collectors wishing to buy it. Hardest "no" he ever uttered was to the late Al Jolson.

Where did he get the hat? It once perched on the head of the popular Al Smith, who gave it to Kilbride in 1930.

Farm Output 5% Greater This Year Than in 1950

Consumer Buying More

Total United States output of farm products this year will be four to five percent greater than it was last year, according to a recent estimate of the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The increase is due largely to the tremendous jump in the production of cotton and to a substantial increase in the production of hogs. The present rate of farm output is about one-fifth greater than it was during World War II years and two-fifths greater than during the three years just before the war.

Farm output has increased much more rapidly since 1939 than it did before that year from 1910 to 1939. The production of farm products increased at an average rate of about 1.2 percent a year. Since 1939 the average has been 3.3 percent a year. While a further increase in agricultural output is inevitable, it is doubtful whether the rate of increase will be so rapid during the next 10 years as it was during the past ten. The greatest increases in output seem likely to come from pasture improvement and increased production of fruits and vegetables.

Consumer buying power reached a new all-time high in August. During that month personal income was flowing at the record rate of 254 billion a year. This rate of income flow was 10 percent greater than in August a year ago.

If the defense program gets underway as expected, total employment may increase by 3 to 4 percent. More important, each day's news brings reports of new increases in wage rates. In many cases the increases are around 8 to 10 percent. Total wage income may go up 10 to 15 percent.

Of course Uncle Sam will take some of this increase in wages for taxes, but he will probably take less than half of the prospective increase in consumer incomes.

Consumer buying has increased this year over last about twice as much as farm production. This increase has furnished a basis for higher prices. As of September 15, prices of farm products averaged about 7 percent higher than they did 12 months earlier.

"We can see prospects of an increase in consumer income in 1952 that will be about as large as the increase this year. Whether farm production goes up will depend largely on the weather conditions. At best the increase is likely to be more than it was this year. With poor weather there will be little or no increase, and possibly a decrease, in the total output of farm products. This appears that the prospective supply and demand forces next year will support average prices of farm products at a high level or push them upward," said L. H. Simerl.

Farm expenses will surely be higher in 1952 than they have been this year. We are certain to have substantial increases in property taxes. Other items of increasing costs will be hired labor, machinery, feed, and fertilizer. In fact, during the coming year increases in gross farm income.

No-Flint Lighter
Flint-less cigar lighters use a thin wire of platinum, which, when exposed to the flammable vapors of the fluid, acts as a catalyst and speeds the reaction between these vapors and the air. It becomes heated to the ignition temperature and the vapors burst into flame.

Oldtimer Says Moderation Is Key to Longer Living

LEONIA, N.J.—Henry B. Hooke recently celebrated his 102nd birthday, defying the longevity figures of our present age.

Hooke attributed his long life to "moderation" in all things and listed his main interests as reading, strolling and viewing television.

In 1888 Hooke was a member of the Queen's Guard Regiment in the Fenian Raid, and the Northwest Rebellion.

Hooke marks each birthday with additional pride, recalling that doctors once told his parents that he had only a short time to live. That was sometime during his 12th year.

Moslems Collecting Funds To Repair Tomb of Mohammed

CAIRO, Egypt—Collections have been started around the Moslem world to obtain funds for necessary repairs to the holy tomb of the great Islamic prophet, Mohammed.

An Arabic newspaper recently announced that the centuries old tomb—the shrine of millions of Moslems—needed immediate repairs to prevent complete collapse.

King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia ordered that technicians be brought in immediately to begin the repair work.

What About Pinkeye?

Q: Does pinkeye affect only cattle?

A: No, sheep are susceptible, too.

This contagious eye infection appears mostly during the warm months.

Q: What causes it?

A: Certain types of germs.

There is a variation between the germ affecting cattle and sheep.

Q: Will it spread from cattle to sheep?

A: Usually there is no spread from cattle to sheep or from sheep to cattle.

Q: What are warning signs of pinkeye?

A: Suspect pinkeye when healthy cattle show swelling or discharge from the eye, or if the white-colored eye membranes is reddened.

It pays to keep a close watch over cattle on summer pastures.

Q: What are best precautions to prevent an outbreak?

A: Spray cattle to prevent flies from spreading germs from eye to eye. Provide plenty of shade. Avoid dusty, weedy pastures. Keep newly-purchased animals from home herd; they may be pinkeye-carriers.

Q: What if cattle do get pinkeye?

A: Isolate cattle with normal eyes from those that are affected. Confine pinkeye cases to a dark barn out of the sunlight.

Have the veterinarian outline proper nursing and treatment of the affected eyes. Do not use any irritant drugs in the eyes.

Q: What about pinkeye in sheep?

A: The same principles apply as in cattle.

Times Ain't Much
Changed From B.C.;
Researcher States

NEWARK, N.J.—Somebody has said that there is nothing new under the sun and Dr. Moses I. Finley, assistant professor of history at the Newark College of Arts and Sciences of the State University, is inclined to agree with him after studying business practices in ancient Greece.

Dr. Finley has discovered, for instance, that when a citizen of Athens, circa 400 B.C., got in financial difficulties because he had bought too many silk togas for his wife or too much wine for his parties, he did just what moderns do. He went in hock. That is, he mortgaged a piece of land, borrowed money and paid off his creditors.

This is one of the many significant facts about the way the ancient Greeks did business which Dr. Finley has uncovered in his search for new knowledge in this heretofore rarely studied field—the machinery of finance 2,350 years ago.

A student of ancient history for more than 20 years, Dr. Finley became interested in ancient business practices in 1947 and began his study by reading everything available on the subject.

His interest was quickened by what he read about the Horoi, stones which the early Greeks placed at the boundaries of their property lines. The existence of the stones as boundary markers had been known for a century, but when Dr. Finley finished studying some 152 of them he had added knowledge about their use.

He found that the Horoi were used as much as the record of a mortgage as a boundary marker.

Working from the original Greek, Dr. Finley has been able to determine from the crude lettering on the Horoi the various reasons why land was mortgaged. Generally people of some wealth were involved and in general the mortgage was the result of borrowing.

From other Horoi he found information on the Greek way of life. Some record charges on property given as a dowry. Others specify that the property was to be kept intact for a minor. Dr. Finley also discovered that in ancient Greece the mortgage was more a substitute for an actual debt than security in the modern sense of the word.

Latest Arrest Brings Shame To 'Hi Class' Chi Hoodlum

CHICAGO, Ill.—There were several catastrophes over the last Fourth of July holiday. A "high class" Chicago hoodlum, however, thinks his personal misfortune one of the worst.

Boasting proudly of 75 arrests ranging from robbery to shooting, Guy (Lover Boy) Hendola, 26, is reluctant to talk about his 76th offense.

Mendola, under sentence of 14 years for a jewelry robbery in Memphis, is in Chicago awaiting an appeal of the conviction. His 78th conviction was under violation of a minor city ordinance.

"What will they think?" says he. "Me—me—arrested for shooting off firecrackers."

Massage Your Molars After Meals to Prevent Decay

The common practice of brushing the teeth in the morning on arising and in the evening before retiring has little effect in combating tooth decay, three dental scientists declared in The Journal of the American Dental Association.

The scientists found that in order to be used immediately after eating—especially after eating refined carbohydrates such as sugar. Even dentifrices containing substances such as ammonia will have no effect when used only in the morning and evening, they reported.

The three researchers were Dr. Leonard S. Fosdick, of Northwestern University Dental School in Chicago, and Comdr. William E. Ludwick and Capt. C. W. Schantz, of the Navy Dental Corps at Great Lakes, Ill.

On the basis of a laboratory study of the length of time that certain antibiotics cling to the film on the teeth, the scientists reported "the only compound that imparts a lasting effect in the mouth is penicillin."

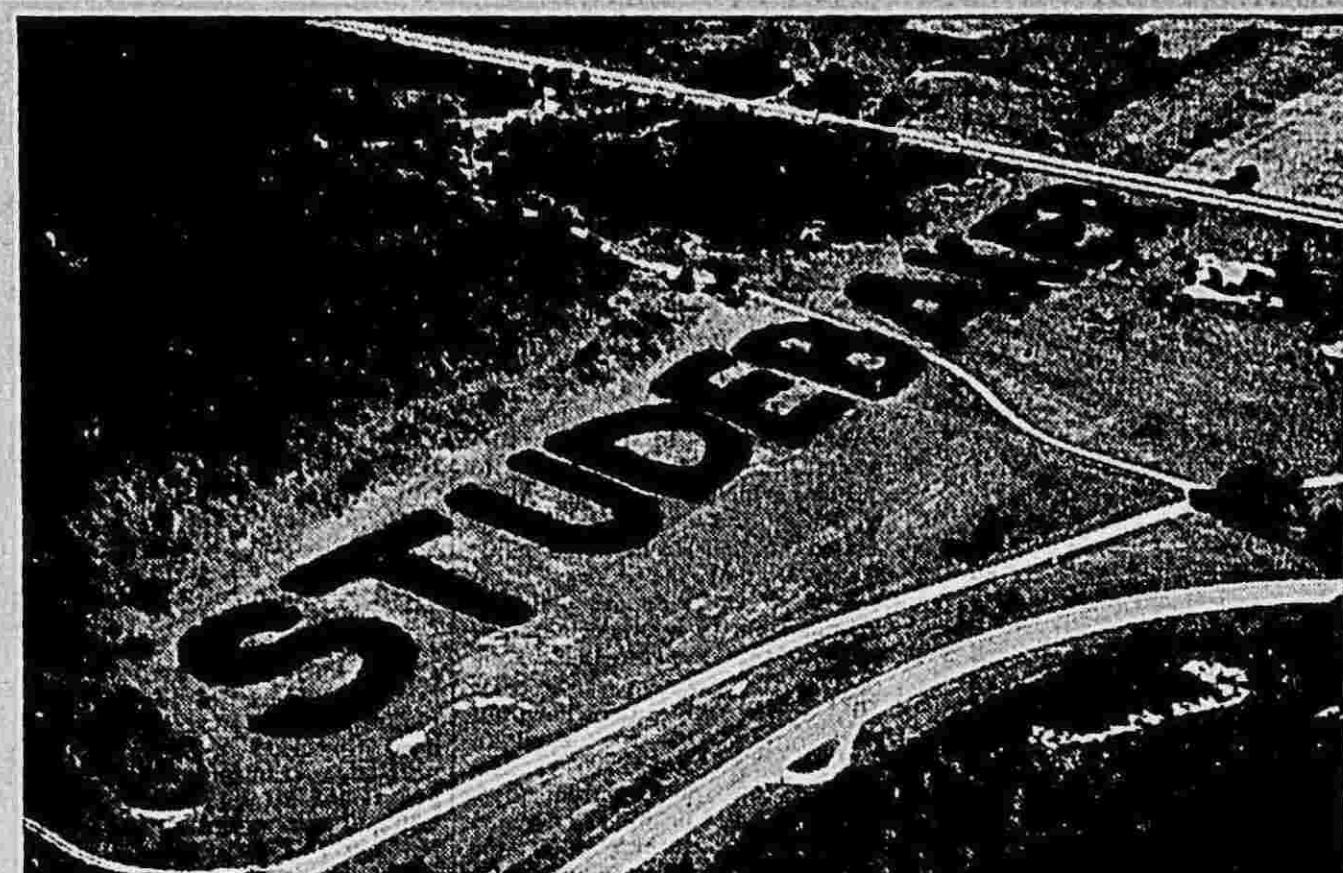

The fact that the other substances did not cling to the film may be "an explanation as to why they are not effective when used morning and night in a dentifrice and why they are effective only when used during or after the ingestion of sugars," the scientists concluded.

Sheep Find it Not Safe To Cross Border Lines

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—It may cost you your hide if you cross the border from Yugoslavia into Bulgaria in these troubled times, as some sheep can readily testify.

Thirteen sheep thought the Bulgarian grass to be greener and ambled across the border to investigate. The Bulgarian guards, not to be caught napping, noticed the invasion. In precise military fashion, they encircled the sheep and opened fire.

Seven sheep became chops for the border guards' mess table. Six wiser ones, scared but unscathed, scampered for home.

WORLD'S LARGEST LIVING SIGN! After 13 years, the scene pictured above has become a familiar sight to air travelers over northern Indiana. Occupying an area 250 feet high by one-half mile in length, the 3,000 pine trees spelling the name have now reached an average height of 20 feet. Seven rows of trees planted 6 feet apart form the letters. The huge sign is located 10 miles west of South Bend, Indiana on Studebaker's 500-acre proving ground, where the new 120-horsepower Studebaker V-8 engine was test-driven for hundreds of thousands of miles.

OUR DEMOCRACY —by Mat

One of the MIRACLES of AMERICA
—THE ELECTRIFICATION OF ITS FARMS

IN 1923, THE FIRST EXPERIMENTAL POWER LINE WAS STRUNG NEAR RED WING, MINNESOTA— 6 MILES OF WIRE, CONNECTING 18 FARMS... TODAY, A YOUNG GENERATION LATER, 4,900,000 OF 5,200,000 OCCUPIED FARMS ARE ELECTRIFIED.

THIS VAST NETWORK OF POWER HAS LESSENED LABOR, SPEEDED PRODUCTION AND RAISED LIVING STANDARDS ON THE FARMS OF OUR DEMOCRACY. IT HAS BEEN CREATED BY TRADITIONAL AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL INGENUITY, BACKED BY THE SAVINGS OF THE PEOPLE.

Keep Painters Busy

At one of the large automobile companies, twenty-seven painting operations are carried out on two miles of conveyor lines. In the storage rooms there are twenty-eight tanks, each of which can hold one hundred twenty gallons of material. In addition to the primer surface and sealer paints, there are twelve enamel colors. Paint is supplied to the body spray booths through nearly thirty-six hundred feet of pipe.

Drive-In Post Offices

The first drive-in post office, probably in the nation, was set up in Mercer Island, Washington, last Christmas. Drivers brought their packages for mailing to the post office and were able to buy stamps without leaving their cars. Business at the converted trailer-post office was reported to be heavy.

Cover Cracks

A tiny crack in a cherished wooden bowl can be filled nicely by pouring shellac into the opening after the surface has been thoroughly cleaned and dried. Shellac sticks in various colors are available. For large cracks use a mixture of fine sawdust and shellac.

Corset Bones

The "bones" used in modern corsets are actually made of feather-weight steel and plastic. Use of real whalebone was discontinued a half century ago.

Units
As

The "Kwiky" is mechanically perfect. Installation is entirely from inside of house and nullifies risk of life and limb in original installation or spring or changes. The unique hardware and simplicity of original fittings enables any owner to install as hammer and screwdriver are the only tools needed. "Kwiky" units include all hardware, screws and nails for completion—also include glazing and Bronze screen wiring.

To wash windows owner can remove — without tools — sash or screen in a jiffy. This is not possible with many other combination units. "Kwiky" units are furnished to fit 2 x 4 frame, brick veneer or brick wall construction. "Kwiky" units consist of two sash and one lower screen which replaces lower sash in the spring. You can replace both sash with screens if you prefer at slight extra screen cost. "Kwiky" units are made of Red Cedar, a naturally rot proof wood and are treated with Woodlife water repellent.

Friends Stand Firm
For Dale Barnstable
In Basketball Inquiry

Antioch friends of Dale Barnstable are reserving their comment on charges that he accepted a $500 bribe as a University of Kentucky player until after the grandjury investigation in New York where he went voluntarily from Louisville, Ky. Sunday.

New York County Assistant District Attorney William P. Sirignano said Barnstable, a former Antioch youth admitted accepting the bribe from gamblers to shave the point spread in the Kentucky-Loyola game in New York in March, 1949.

Barnstable's high school boys refused to turn their backs on him.

A few hours after his confession nine members of his 1950-51 team whom he led to a state championship, drafted a signed statement which said in part:

"We all wish for him to remain at Manual as head basketball coach."

"We feel actually, that what happened to him then will make him an even better man today . . ."

"I don't even know when it started," Barnstable told news men.

The thing about it is that you convince yourself you are doing no harm at the beginning. You get $15 or $20 from the school for playing a good game and you figure it won't hurt to take some bigger money for winning with something to spare."

(Sirignano said Barnstable admitted taking $100 from gamblers on three or four other occasions to help Kentucky go over the point spread—that is, win games by more than quoted in bets. This is not a crime in New York, which only forbids the limiting of margin of victory.)

"So you take that money to go over the spread and then you are offered some real money for shaving the points," Barnstable said.

"There is a lot of smooth talk and you talk yourself into the idea that it wouldn't hurt you or the school to win by a small score."

"You are a little confused and you don't know exactly what's going on and the next thing you know you are in it deep—too deep."

Barnstable said he never knew when he was talking to would-be fixers.

"Everywhere you went strange people would try to talk to you in hotel lobbies. They want to know if you think you will win, or if you think you will win by 10 points or a lot of other things," he said.

He said he regretted the whole affair. "I just hope the public won't judge us too harshly for our mistake," he said.

Alex Groza and Ralph Beard of Chicago, other members of the Kentucky team were arrested there and taken to New York for the grandjury investigation and admitted their part in the "fix." The two own stock in the Indianapolis independent basketball team, and will be forced to sell their stock.

Olga Oetting, 72
Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Olga Oetting, 72, of Antioch, who died at a Chicago hospital Friday, Oct. 19, were held Monday at Ahlgren's funeral home, Chicago.

Mrs. Oetting had been in poor health for the past year.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Louis Biel of Antioch, a son, William of Chicago and 5 grand children.

Mrs. Oetting was the widow of the late William Oetting who operated the Oetting Ice Co. for many years in Chicago and this vicinity.

Interment was in a Chicago cemetery.

What About Swine Pox?

Q: Is swine pox a hazard to all hogs?

A: Yes, but it chiefly affects young pigs and growing shoats.

Q: What does it look like?

A: In many ways it resembles the human disease, smallpox. The pox eruptions appear on the hair-free parts of the pig's body . . . belly, snout, and armpits. First they are about the size of a pea. Then they blister, and finally form a crater-like sore.

Q: What about the brood sows?

A: Some sows get pox lesions on their udders. When this happens, sucking pigs develop sore mouths, and starve.

Q: If pox appears, can the pigs be saved?

A: Most of them can be saved, if the veterinarian is able to get on the job and start treatment when the first spots appear.

Q: Is it contagious?

A: Yes. Poxy pigs should be moved immediately from the rest of the herd. It is also a good plan to isolate newly-bought pigs a few weeks, to be sure they do not have swine pox. Never sell poxy pigs to neighbors, as it will spread the disease to their drove. Hog lice are carriers of pox, so louse control is important.

Q: Isn't swine pox a vaccination hazard?

A: Very much so. To vaccinate a pig that has swine pox is to take a pretty strong chance on losing him. That is one reason why it is important to have a veterinary checkup of the drove before having pigs vaccinated for cholera, erysipelas, or anything else.
